

MESSAGE 45 MARCH.3.2018

Listen to Me, children of men, listen to Me because once I speak and I will not speak again to anyone who does not want to listen to Me.

Listen to Me¹ house of Israel, I see you and I know of your desires to follow the Son of God but I see your heart and in it there is no faith, there is deceit, there is unbelief; I see you, I see your actions and your desire.

Do not turn away from Me because there will come days, O Jerusalem, that you will want to find Me but you will not find Me because the dark days are getting closer, they are closer to your lives, but you do not listen to Me, children of men, you do not listen and continue to follow your affairs; you do not listen to the Son of God who descends to bring you these words of Light and Salvation. The Mercy of God is brought down to you, but what do you do when these words of love and mercy reach your lives? What do you do when these words resonate in your hearts?

You follow paths of sin and unbelief, you just want to banquet and be in your things and that will have a price and it will be the greatest purification that this world² has known because you do not look at the sky, children, you only look at the ground where you walk and you die but your eyes do not look with the longing of the soul, of finding Peace, Justice, Love and the Mercy that your whole being longs for and desires. You are under the lowest instincts, they govern you and tell you the path you must follow, paths of sin and corruption where the enemy of your souls dwells; the devil, satan; he only seeks to loose you, children, to lose your soul³ and take you to hell with him, to the eternal fire that is not extinguished.

Children of men, listen to My words out of compassion, which I direct to you through My instrument, which I have chosen out of compassion for this world, out of compassion for your souls, lost and longing of Goodness and Justice, of Love and Mercy.

Oh children, the greatest purification that has been known in this world⁴ will fall from heaven, because your souls need to be washed in the dew of baptismal water, to recover the purity and innocence of Grace that you lost in this world by following paths of sin.

Oh children, how much will you need this suffering and this pain in your lives; it will open your hearts of stone⁵, it will be the sword that will open the darkness of your heart, to give it the last opportunity, the opportunity to receive, to receive again, the baptismal Grace.

Oh children of men, listen to My words, words of Love and Mercy that your souls long for and need. Oh children, pay attention to My prayer of Love, that the afternoon of time is coming, is coming, it has already arrived in your lives.

Oh children, heaven will fall silent and My angels will cry to see the destiny of this world that was created for the good, and the Love of a Father⁶ who is in heaven and loves His children with a Paternal Love that you have not known in this world, but that it awaits you in Heaven, in an Eternity of Love. No one knows the Father except the Son, and everyone to whom the Son wishes to reveal it to⁷, to reveal it in the Life of His Son⁸, a life of obedience and sacrifice, suffering and pain for the Love of a Father who is in heaven and His Love exceeds all that is known, all that is desired, all that is yearned for, all that you can imagine because His Love is Truth, is Justice, is Love and is Mercy. The love of this world is not love, it is gift for your ears, for your sight, for your senses, but it is not true, it is depth, it is justice; your love is selfish and haughty and demands but does not serve, does not give, does not give without measure; but the love that your soul longs for is the Love that you knew on the day of your baptism, the love that was poured out in your souls, that love is the one that your souls pursue and follow every day, at every moment; but here it does not find it, it will only find it in the Love of God; Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Yes children, that your soul received the greatest gift on the day of your baptism: the Love of God was poured out in your souls and since then it seeks it, longs for it, needs it, wants it, yearns for it⁹ but only in God can find it.

When the effort, the faith, makes you live in the narrow gate, the soul continues to pine for the love that it yearns for, but man succumbs to the effort, to the effort of faith and goes after substitutes of love: the lie of Satan. Because there is only one Love and that is in God.

Children, be brave¹⁰ and courageous in the battle to live in faith every day, be strong in expecting everything from God and do not conform to the lie, with the immediate pleasure that will take you to the gates of hell; no children, fight, fight in the way of faith and expect everything from your Lord and God, that I will see your effort and run to you with My consolations, the joy of Love.

I will take you by My hand to the Father; I will present you before Him, because I have traveled the road with you; I know of your sufferings and pains. I will speak to the Father of you, I will present you before Him and I will defend your life as a mediator of your soul¹¹ before Him who examines everything and knows everything.

He who will judge your soul will take it to the Father; He will present it before Him. Do not be alarmed because from My hand you will be before the Creator of the world Who loves you with an infinite Love that sent His Only Son¹² to a cruel death full of ignominy¹³ for Love to you so that, one day you may face Him and live an eternity of Love with you, children. If you knew the Love that awaits you, you would be happy in this world although you still have to suffer many trials and pains.

My Holy Spirit assists you in each moment and takes you with His Holy Inspirations on the path of Love and Salvation. Listen to Him in your hearts, in your silence; listen to the Sanctifier of your souls, in Him is the Light and the Truth that you need to live on your road to heaven.

Children, listen to the Savior of your souls who today, in a Mercy that spills out from Heaven, speaks to you and waits for you in the meditation and in the silence that these words need in your heart.

The baptismal water will be poured out from the heavens in the greatest purification¹⁴ that awaits you, it will prepare you to stand before Me in the Particular Judgment of your souls, it will pave the way for the day that you must appear before Me, it will cleanse your soul of many sins committed in your life, of so many offenses as the Savior on His Cross has received from your sins and your crimes. The necessary purification that the Father in His Mercy will send to this world of sin to save His children from the eternal fire to which your souls would go, if not before they were washed with rigor and justice. The same one who will judge you by mandate of the Father¹⁵, who is in heaven, will take you from His hand before Him who governs everything: Heavens and Earth. From His hand you will go before Him and My Love for you will accompany you in that moment will defend you from your faults¹⁶ by the lived purification that already paid your ransom.

O Children, prepare yourselves for the arrival of the Great Tribulation¹⁷ in your lives, prepare yourselves with the sacrament of penance, weep your sins and your crimes day and night, go frequently to the sacrament of penance, and ask forgiveness for all the sins of your lifetime.

O children of men, listen to these words, listen to them children, for compassion and talk about your life so that it can be light for others, tell them of your encounter with Me, tell them of your way of salvation, speak, children, to those who do not know Me so that others believe by your witness of love and salvation. Do not keep in your heart the Grace that I once poured out in you¹⁸, let this Grace that is alive in you by the Mercy of God shine to others, to those who have not known it because of their unbelief, their sin and neglect; let the baptismal water in you splash on others and make the desire in their lives to live as you do in My Love and fill their lives with the yearning to live in the river of My Grace and to not settle for the drops that fall on them for your obedience to these words, but to long to soak in the river of Grace of My Holy Spirit¹⁹.

Testimony and penance, listen to My Word and silence, live in My Love²⁰ and desire the Love of the Father, the Love that the world has not known²¹, but that in His Son on the Cross is before all.

The Love of God was poured out in your souls²²; it is alive before your eyes in the Son of God on the Cross. There is no greater Love²³.

Listen to Me children of the soul, listen to Me²⁴ and you will save your souls, otherwise you reject the Salvation that the Son of man has come to bring you.

Listen to Me, out of compassion and carry these words, My words, the words of the Son of God to everyone who wants to listen to you. Carry them with love and perseverance, have patience²⁵, the patience of God who send you one message after another and you do not listen to Me.

O Children, heaven will poured out the pain of the purification to save your souls. Be attentive to the signs in heaven because your liberation is approaching. Amen. Alleluia, “Glory to God”

Give Glory to God with your life, with your testimony, with your effort, with your penance, with your life given to the only true God who looks at you from heaven²⁶, who is nailed to the Cross²⁷ for you, who groans²⁸ in your souls day and night to ask for your liberation from sin.

Pay attention to Me, children, and you will save your souls. Pay attention, children, and you will live in heaven an Eternity of Love.

Pray to My Mother and ask her to teach you, to help you live in My Love, to take you to Me every day from her hand.

O Children, that an Eternity of Love awaits you, raise your hands to heaven and ask for the Gift of the Holy Spirit²⁹, without Him you can do nothing.

I wait for you in every confession, in every communion, in every silence, in every pain of your life. I am with you and I do not separate from you.

I, Jesus, speaks to you through My dear child of the soul; she brings you My words of Love and of Salvation; listen to her so that you listen to the Always seek the Glory of God³⁰. Speak to all of my Love, you, son, that you have known My Love, that you live in My Love, tell your brother so that he also approaches Me, so that He may want My Love, so that he may save his life from the pit. Speak to all of My Love.

“Alleluia, Glory to God” be always on your lips and in your heart.

The sky is dyed in Glory, the purple color of the Blood of the Son of God³¹ poured out for your Salvation.

The purification necessary for the Salvation of your souls, children, will fall from heaven. Be attentive, expectant every day and prepare for that moment. Do not get sad because the cross in your lives³² will be your key to heaven.

Live the cross as your Savior, in obedience to the Father³³ and His Love will be in you and will accompany you until you are before Him; that day your soul will enjoy in an ecstasy of love for all eternity. Look to heaven, do not for the things of this world³⁴ that is ending and will lead you to perdition. Look to heaven³⁵, which awaits you. Amen, amen.
