

MESSAGE 55 JANUARY.2.2019

O, My people of My entrails, O people of My Love, how long I looked for you, but you looked the other way.

O, My people, now I seek you, I call you by your name¹, come, come to Me and do not run away from your God and your Savior.

In a moment I found you, but you fled from Me, our glances were merged in the greatest Love, but you did not persevere in love first², but you let yourself be seduced by the evil of this world.

O, children of My Soul, you did not value the Love that happened in your lives, and I, prisoner of your love.

O My people, how much pain you caused in the Heart of your Lord and God with your flight from My arms of love, but today I speak to your heart: Come, come to Me, do not run away from your salvation, do not run away son, I want to save you from the clutches of the infernal enemy.

Time is running out, but you do not listen to Me, children, you are not in the things of God but in those of the world³; you are prisoners of the things of this world, and your God and Lord, prisoner of your love. Such inequality breaks the Heart of the Lord, of your Lord, son, you who wander in this world, prisoner of evil and greed for the goods of this world.

Break the chains, break them and come to the sacrament of Confession and unite yourself into a hug of love with Him who awaits for you day and night, without ceasing, He is a prisoner of your love.

Break the chains that bind you to the evil of this world, break them and you will know the greatest Love, which you could never dream or imagine.

³ 1 Jn 2, 15

Evil prowls around⁴ your life, it wants to destroy your soul, and with it the design of eternal love, that the Father God has for you from all eternity. Look, I am speaking to you, son, I am speaking to you in this night⁵ of love, on this night of salvation, listen son, listen to these words and you will not regret it on that day when you stand before Me. The Father has a design of love for you from all eternity, before you were created⁶: do not break it, be attentive to it, because time is running out and the Vinedresser⁷ will gather the harvest⁸ and the bad rotten fruit will be thrown in the eternal fire that does not extinguish⁹.

O Israel, listen to your God and Savior who speaks to you in the silence of this night, the Voice of God sounds in this world, it resounds in the silence, thunders in the darkness of the night and addresses you, son, to you that reads these words: get ready to walk now, get ready to receive the Lord of lords¹⁰, who knocks at your door¹¹ tonight like a beggar of your love.

Just get ready and start walking; make a serious examination of conscience of your life; put all your sins in front of Me and with your tears with them; ask for forgiveness with all the repentance that you are capable of because this night¹² I ask you for a commitment of love.

Say ‘yes’ answer Me with the ‘yes’ that My Holy Heart¹³ longs for, and begin, son because it is already late and there will come times, O Jerusalem, that you will seek Me¹⁴ and I will not be, you will look for My holy ministers and they will not be; what to do? You will say. The terror of a convulsed and lost world, ruled by satan¹⁵, will grind your soul and you will wander lost without knowing what to do, where to go; but if you welcome My Grace, now that it is still favorable time, those days My Voice¹⁶ will resound in your hearts with the words I have addressed to you and I will direct you and your path will be illumined with the Light of My Grace.

⁵ Sometimes the Lord alludes to the moment of the day when he speaks to his instrument, so that we learn that his chosen ones should be aware of His voice day and night, since he speaks in the heart (Mt 3,11) at any time of the day. When the Lord alluded to the hour, Isabel looked at her watch and pointed out the time: 1:10am.

Be prepared as a good army¹⁷ that is preparing for battle, do not dismiss anything that you will need, above all: communion with your Capitan, the union between all the combatant soldiers under the orders of your Capitan. Union is strength when it is communion in Christ Jesus. Flee from the unions of the false ideas and opinions of this world, empty criteria that only dulls your soul and make you lose your way.

Now I am addressing you, dear child of My Soul, be brave¹⁸ and persevere in the path chosen for you from all eternity by your Father who is in heaven, do not doubt your uncertain steps if they turn to Me and to My Holy Will. That day you will have the Light to see your life and you will see what is now hidden in your eyes. Live in faith¹⁹, walk in faith, dream in faith and you will never regret your abandonment in Him who gave you Life on the Cross.

It is not too late to begin, but soon it will be, dear children of My Soul, I repeat it to you, soon it will be, but you do not believe Me, because you have a dull heart with the disbelief in My coming and the fear that satan breaths in you to lose your soul. Flee from the one that who does not want you to believe that I come, that I come and I do not delay²⁰ and do not be afraid; only fear the death of the soul²¹.

I, Jesus, am with you, dear children of Mine, and I will not leave you nor will I ever leave you²²; even if a mother left her little child, do not doubt My Love, because I, Jesus, will never leave you²³; heaven and earth will pass²⁴ before your God leaves you, because, like a good and solicitous mother, He only has eyes for the child of His soul, I will hold you by the hand, I will free you from the potholes of the road, I will take you in My arms and will press against My cheek²⁵ and will kiss your cheeks and I will caress your face, I will laugh with you and dry your tears²⁶, My Heart will beat right next to yours in a Love you have never known, the Love of God is the love of a mother, a father, a brother, a husband²⁷, a wife in love, it is Love²⁸, the Only Love, although you know them with differences, everything is a unique love, the love that God put in your hearts²⁹.

Nothing else I should say to you: time is pressing, events will happen quickly and you will see Me before you that day, which is the moment to decide on the path to follow, to prepare the luggage of your life, to wait for Me, children; wait³⁰ for your God and Lord in peace, with the peace that My Holy Spirit places and will place in your hearts³¹.

May no one take away your hope in My arrival, may the joy of being with Me not be tarnished by the events that you will begin to experience, that faith may assist you at each moment and be one with you and accompany you in your journey.

One Faith, one baptism³², one hope.

Look up to heaven, children, lift up your eyes from the rubbish of this world, from the ephemeral, from the obsolete, look at the infinite, the eternity, the eternal love, the Promise of the Father³³: the joy of the Holy Spirit poured out in your hearts.

Look at the Glory that awaits you, that is waiting for you and fight, fight children, that one day you will be glad of your fatigue, weariness, to follow the Son of man.

A new heaven and a new earth³⁴ awaits you, everyday it gets closer and closer to you, look at the bliss that awaits you, raise your eyes to heaven. Loose sight of this world, living in it as pilgrims yearning for their destiny of Love and eternity.

You posses nothing in this world, everything is temporary and you will leave everything. Be willing to detach and remove from everything even if you live with it³⁵.

Seek the first love that I put in your heart, do not lose it.

Remember My Mercy and your misery, poverty that I fell in love with for you, like a little child who is poor and needy in everything, because he has no strength or reason yet, but his parents love him and care for him with immense tenderness and his poverty and his clumsiness is the cause of their delight to love and protect him; in that way I love you, but with the love of a whole God, who can do everything, trust in the power of God, above everything and above everyone and fear nothing, because you go from My hand and you are the object of My love and tenderness, be afraid to let go of My hand because the roaring lion³⁶ will take advantage of your helplessness to make you an easy prey.

On this night I speak to you, little child of Mine that you are scared, lost, confused and I say to you: I love you, come to Me.

I love you, dear children of My Soul, children of My Passion³⁷, do not forget My Love. Come to Me.
