

MESSAGE 65 NOVEMBER.1.2019

«Get up, daughter of God¹, and start writing because the Lord, your God, will speak to you tonight²»

In between clouds you will see Me³, o My people, people of Israel, people of My entrails.

Nothing will escape My wrath⁴, My fury, that day, all nations will prostrate before Me⁵, because I come, I come and do not delay⁶.

Listen, My people, I have one thing against you: that you have not loved the Lord your God with all your heart, all your soul and all your being⁷. You have gone after other gods, gods⁸ of mud and clay who do not see, who do not feel, who do not talk, they do not love you because they are nothing and have nothing, they are dust and in the dust they will disappear forever.

Oh, Shema Israel⁹, people of God, listen to My voice¹⁰ in the silence of the night, hear My voice in the sound of your heart, of your mind, let My voice enter your heart, prepare yourself to hear the voice of God, the voice of your Lord: I come, son, I come and it will not be long.

Oh children of men, how far you are from My Holy Heart that calls you, that searches for you day and night, you do not attend My Words¹¹, you do not attend to My voice in your heart, you are too busy and very satisfied with the things of this world.

¹ 1 Jn 3, 1-2.8 This surprising beginning, by the way of designating Isabel as the daughter of God, is not only seen confirmed when in the reading of the Eucharist she heard the words of 1 Jn 3, 1-3, but also wrapped in the love of the Lord, because she had not been able to participate in the Eucharist for four days due to her illness.

² She was lying down when she heard these words; she got up and looking at the clock it was 00:30hours on November 1st.

Oh Israel, here I am for you, for your salvation, but you do not listen to Me, you do not listen to my resounding voice in your heart, heart of stone, hard as flint. One day I will look for you and you will not be able to hide from Me¹², from your God and Lord, I will look for you and find you in your hiding place of sin and perdition and you will see yourself before Me and you will not be able to bare My Look, because you will be ashamed of your sin and you will want to flee from Me but I will hold onto you, with chains of love¹³ I will hold you close to Me and I will not allow you to run away from Me.

The time has come, the time of perdition for a world doomed to death and who groans day and night at the gates of hell for the multitude of their sins.

You are hurt, hurt by sin and the evil of satan, hurt and lost and I, Jesus, extend my hand to you, I open My arms of Love¹⁴, but you flee and flee again and again from Me.

What can I do with these people? Listen, son, listen tonight that I speak to your heart, that I wait for you in silence, in the intimacy of your soul and heart, look, listen to My Words of Salvation, that once I speak and I will not speak again if do not want to listen to Me. Listen: a time is approaching, a time of perdition, hold on to My salvation, hold on to Me son because times will come that you will remember this day, a day still of peace and prosperity in which you can approach Me because you still have priests of My Holy Heart near you, but days will come that you will not see them, that you will look for and you will not find them, they will not be near you as they are now, now they are still in all parts of the Earth, in war or prosperity they are near but days will come that they will not be, they will not be able and you will moan day and night, because you will long for My Salvation, My Grace, the channels of My Grace: the sacraments and you will not have them as they are still close to you.

The devil, satan, will sit on the throne of Peter¹⁵ and destroy everything holy, he will persecute to death my holy priests and the whole world will get dark, darkness will flood the Earth¹⁶, the night will come upon this world of sin and perdition, the Light will flee from you momentarily and you will be left blind, you will see nothing, only darkness and desolation, it will be the test of faith that will plague the Earth. Peter staff will disappear, the guide of peace and truth will not be with you, because his eyes will also be blinded his hands will tremble and the test of faith will ravage his heart, shrunk by terror and fright, he will suffer the most acute pains¹⁷: he will see his children die, he will see his iniquity, his evil, his time lost away from My Love, and his anguish will close his eyes, he will see nothing more.

These are not times of dances or parties, because the Lord suffers the most acute pains in His favorite¹⁸ children: it is a time of sadness and agony for what comes to you, because the son of perdition¹⁹ is at the door, the throne is prepared for him, his servants are awaiting for him now, they know the day and the hour²⁰, everything is prepared²¹ for that moment, because ¹⁷ When Isabel heard the Reading of the message after the transcription, she noticed that in this place she had to add two periods, but she did not dare to say why she did because she was not sure of it. When she woke up she felt she had to put two periods in this place, she immediately called her director to let him know, because she wants to be completely docile to the assistance that the Lord seeks to transcribe as He desires emphasizing what follows.

²⁰ When he was receiving these words Isabel had a moment when she had these thoughts: no, if the day and time is unknown, 'but she was not aware that she did not write those words, nor was she unscrupulous that she had not written them. But when she woke up on day 1 she felt the words inside him 'the servers await him, they know the day and time. Although what precedes "know the day and time" is not literal, it served to find the exact place. And then she did remember exactly what happened to him and that she had not written that expression: "They know the day and the hour."

darkness will flood the Earth that day, it will be the end of a story of Light in which the Lord, your God, was at your side in the Holy²² Tabernacle. You will look around and everything will be calamity and sadness, because I, Jesus, the Lord, will not be: it is the hour of the prince of this world, the prince of evil and lies and his terror and evil will ravage the Earth from the East to the west; his minions are already prepared in every corner of this world; they know that he is here and they are waiting for him, they know that there is a little time left and you, children, lost in the future of the things of this world.

I warn you, children of My Soul, prepare yourselves because the time is coming, O Jerusalem, that you will seek Me and I will not be²³, you will cry bitterly your loneliness and your orphanhood. You will not see the helping hand of Peter again, on his throne will lie death and sin, desolation, his white robes bright as the sun are black in the eyes of God, but your eyes will be deceived²⁴ in broad daylight and you will not see, children, what I, the Lord see. Your heart will tremble with terror and fright when its evil begins to be seen, after the deception in which many will fall and will not have the Light of God to unmask the lie and deception that, blatantly, will be before you. The throne of Peter will be dyed with blood and your eyes will mourn the absence of the father, the shepherd of your souls; Cry, children and mourn that day, because even the angels fear and cry for you.

My Mother will shelter you under her mantle, it will be your refuge those days, stay always by her side, She protects you as a mother protects her children from all evil.

²¹ The servants of the son of perdition know the day and the hour of his intervention, but they do not know the day and the hour in which the Lord will intervene and will knock him down with the breath of his mouth.

²² Dn 11, 31; 12, 11

²³ Prov 1, 28

²⁴ Mt 24, 22-24

You will see thunder and lighting²⁵ fall from the sky, that day be warned, it is here, the son of perdition is here.

My holy people, lost and confused, plundered by the hosts of evil, exiled not to see the Light, refuge in hidden places, but, there, in the midst of them will be I, Jesus and I will comfort you and ease your sorrows with the Bread from Heaven²⁶: My Body and My Blessed Blood, which will be your viaticum and salvation those days.

Do not scatter yourself here and there, remain united always around the priests, keep peace and calm, because I will not abandon you and I will not be far away from you even though you cannot come to see Me and be with Me as you can do now.

It is time to pray, to wait calmly together with the Lord. I warn you, children and I encourage you in your walk, because nothing will happen to you if you remain in My Love.

Do not fear the one that can kill the body, but the one that can kill the soul and lead it to eternal damnation²⁷, he will sit on the throne of Peter and the unfortunate days and the time of sorrows will begin²⁸; be prepared for that day, frequent the sacraments and live in peace and prayer.

Never be discouraged, do not lose peace or patience²⁹, be strong and resist the pain of the time that lies ahead by My side, do not separate from Me, I do not separate from you, I do not stop looking at you.

I, Jesus, have you tattooed in My Holy heart, in the fire of My Love, there you are and you will always remain, day and night. I love you and I will never leave you.➤
