

MESSAGE 71 APRIL.1.2020

«Come to Me, beloved children, come to Me who am Meek and Humble of Heart¹, in My Heart you all fit and awaits you all, come, come to Me.

When the time of calamity draws near you, do not complain to the One Who gave you Life on the Cross, but rather come, come to shelter yourselves within His Holy Heart.

The world urges you to fulfill its commands, and you do not listen to the Son of man who urges you to save yourself by holding from His hand. Obey, children, obey My orders of Love and in them you will find the rest and love that you seek, that you need, in these moments.

You awaken to a new world in your lives and you are saddened and doomed to confusion and bewilderment, but, children, I already told you about the time you were to live, the time of rigor that was approaching you, but you live in your things and in the things of this world, and you do not listen to Me when I speak to you, when I send you My Words of Love and warning of the time of rigor and calamity that was approaching your lives: it is already here, children, but do not be alarmed, because I told you that you should shelter in My Holy Heart. My Heart is open², come, come to him.

When the storm and lightning strike in your lives you become alarmed and overly³ concerned, why, children? I am with you and with Me nothing will happen to you, you must live the signs of the times with peace and from My hand and nothing will happen to you, the one who goes by My hand⁴ saves his life, saves his soul.

³ Mt 8,23-27

⁴ Jn 6,27.56; 15,4-7.9-10; 11,26; Act 11,23

You are pilgrims and you walk towards the Father's House, do not care so much about losing your life⁵, but be alarmed at losing your soul⁶, do not be so scared of your life, you should be more scared of everything that contaminates and perverts the soul. In a world where nothing is valued more than having and possessing, appearing prominent before others, being someone for others, how difficult it is to give value to what is not seen, to the invisible that, being invisible, is what that endures and lives forever: the soul.

Purify the soul, children, with the sweet dew of the purification offered by the pains of this world, which will be the salvation of a world that does not believe and only believes in itself. The time of sorrows is the great purification⁷ that awaits this world, pains to enter heaven, to make amends to the Most Holy Heart of Jesus, to be pleasing to the Father who is in Heaven, to be worthy of the Salvation that the Son of man brought you. Love the yoke⁸ that hangs over you, for it is your salvation. The Salvation that I came to bring you on My Cross is renewed in yours⁹, offer it united to Mine and complete My sorrows, those that are missing¹⁰ for the Redemption of this world, a crazy and lost world doomed to the gates of hell, for their sins for they are many and very serious.

One day I told you, My dear children, that I would come for you¹¹, and I will do so, children, but wait, wait and live in your lives the sweet calamity that brings you to Me, the suffering; it is sweet and loving when you live in My Love¹² and expect everything from Me, the thorns turn to roses in your lives and the nails soft murmurs of Love of your Savior, but for that I had to die on My Cross, so that now you, children of My Love, find comfort and strength when you live the same as your Savior. Pain is not easy for the body, it is hard and devastating for you, but, children, live it in My Holy Name and it will become sweet and soft because My yoke is bearable and My burden is light.

Look at My death on the Cross¹³ and from there you will draw strength and the love to live yours, your death, when the time has come and your cross.

Do not be scandalized by My Words¹⁴ because they bring you the Truth and the Life¹⁵, they bring you closer to the time of rigor from the Cross of your Savior and not from the dryness and the abandonment, from the bloody, emptiness of My Cross, then the cross does become rough and unbearable, it is not bearable and the soul falls into despair, but repeat My Holy Name in your tribulation and the horizon of your life will change and I, Jesus, your Lord, will be with you.

I promised to be with you from My Cross, to never leave you alone in it, to comfort and love you, I gave you My Mother¹⁶, so that She too would be with you, and would watch over your pain and suffer it with you, as she did with her Son; I gave you My Holy Spirit, so that in Him and with Him you can do¹⁷ what man cannot.

You are not alone¹⁸, you are not poor, you have everything in these moments of pain, because you have the help of the Lord, children, come to Me¹⁹, come to Me. Don't expect anything from this world, it can not give you anything that you need, it is empty, it only has pain and suffering, because he moved away from the Savior, from its Savior. Do not go and ask for help from someone who can do nothing for you, but rather, it is he who inflicts this evil that you suffer. Come to your Savior, who knows pain, who knows tears and abandonment, who knows and lived all the pain of this world²⁰, nothing was left that he did not carry on His Cross, he carried all the iniquity of the world²¹, with all his suffering and pain and I take you, children, in the palm of My hand.

I invite you to shelter in Me, in My Holy Heart, to protect yourself in My Holy Heart of all the evil that surrounds you, to console your tears²². Accept the hand of the Savior, I extend it to you, children, to help you, to love you, to save you, do not be wayward children, do not be angry for the evil you suffer²³, rather look at your Savior on the Cross and join Him.

Nothing will happen without My consent and everything that happens will be for the good of souls, to save them from the infernal enemy that stalks them without stopping to take them from My Holy Father. Children, have confidence in your Savior and your God, have confidence, where is your faith? Where is your confidence, your love for the Savior? Why are you trembling? If I am with you and I do not stop looking at you.

Days will come, O Jerusalem, that the wolf will graze with the kid²⁴ and will not devour him because the time of calamity will be over and My children, washed their souls²⁵ in the great purification of this world, will sit with Me²⁶, at My side, in the Kingdom of My Father and you will praise God and you will prostrate before Him²⁷ and the world will have ended as you know it now, all suffering and all evil will be swept away, exterminated from this world, all pain will end because a new world will begin, but Children, live the present path, longing with hope for what is to come: the Kingdom of God.

I do not leave you alone, I am with you, I accompany you and I do not depart from you, live everything in My Love, rest in My Love, on My Cross, in My Holy Heart.

Now is the time to cry but days of joy and happiness will come in your lives when you are before Me, before the Savior of your souls, wait with joy and full of hope that day, because it is close, it comes close to you and there I will wipe your tears, it will be a day of rigor and also of Mercy with My beloved children.

Oh Jerusalem, come, come to Me, the wolf is coming, the day of rigor and it will devour your insides, the ferocious butcher will cut you in the canal and you will bleed to death, but behold, I come, your Savior is coming and I will heal your wound, I will calm your pain, I will bandage your wound and I will breathe the breath of life and you will live, you will live because I love you and I look for you day and night without stopping, I will heal you with My Love and My Forgiveness when, seeing you bleed to death from the wound of the ferocious murderer of your soul, you ask for mercy and forgiveness from your Savior, the one you rejected when he came to you, the one you killed in a tree in a death full of cruelty and ignominy. I will not remember your sin when you return to Me: that day will be glorious and the choir of angels will sing in Heaven and Earth, oh children, after the pain and rigor of your purification the sky will open and spill the dew of the greatest consolation that has ever existed nor will it exist. Prepare yourselves, children, prepare yourselves to live this time of rigor in which the wolf tears the kid, the child is bitten by the infernal serpent and the darkness covers the Earth, but days will come, O Jerusalem, that purification will bring you forgiveness and peace, to you and to all

Creation, everything will be renewed in My Holy Spirit and, where there had only been death and desolation, I will make peace and love be reborn in happiness and exultant joy and life will return to you, wait for this time and the time of rigor will become more bearable, children.

Nothing exists or occurs in the world without my knowing and governing it²⁸, rest easy, everything happens in order to the salvation of souls. There is no confusion or meaningless in everything you see because the Son of man is with you and in him you will find peace and calm to live what you do not understand and find it difficult to assume, he will give meaning and peace to what without His Presence would become despair in your lives.

Prepared, children, to receive the Redemption of your souls and of the world. The Redemption of the world that I gave you on My Cross is in pain and suffering where you receive it fully when you accept your Cross and unite it with Mine in an act of trust and faith in your God who moves the Heart of God and makes the angels mourn, because they will never live what you live: the Cross of Christ Jesus.

Courage, children, prepare to receive the Lord in your lives, prepare yourself with the acceptance of your cross and trust in your God.

Have faith that I am²⁹ and nothing is without Me, and everything that is not of Me and exists outside of Me: evil will be swept away and exterminated from the face of the Earth³⁰.

Everything will happen, everything will happen, wait for that day and accept your condition as pilgrims, you walk towards the Father, accept the time of your lives, and depart to the Father with peace that I await you beyond death and I will welcome you in My arms of Love and I will present you before the Father, fear not those who must leave, if you die at My side you must fear nothing, because I will not separate from you. Pray for those who die far from My Love, in the midst of turbulence, despair, confusion and bewilderment.

The cross without God is the greatest punishment that man lives on Earth and that he inflicts on himself.

Come to Me, come to Me, My beloved children, to Me who love you in an Eternal Love. Amen amen »
