

MESSAGE 73 JUNE.1.2020

« Don't forget your precepts, Jerusalem, don't forget the precepts of your Lord, that you received on Mount Sinai and they are written in the Table of the Law¹ and in your heart, there the Lord, your God, put them for your salvation.

Do not forget the Mandates of the Lord, they are the Mandates of love, learn them and keep them² in your heart because they are the way of love: love for your God and love for others as yourself. They are the Mandates of Light, Goodness and Love, they are the path that you must travel to reach the end of the journey, the journey of goodness and love. Learn them and keep them in your heart³ and that day, when you are before your God and Lord they will be before you and they will judge you before Me. A day of darkness and blackness⁴ for those who will reject Salvation, a day of joy and light for those who will embrace the Cross of the Lord⁵ and embrace the salvation of their soul, that is why today I urge you to take the path of love seriously, the way of the Lord's Mandates. Do not forget the history of the people of God, today it is repeated and you must learn the lesson of your ancestors⁶ to know, son, that there is only one Salvation⁷ and one single path: that of Jesus Christ⁸.

Today I call you by your name, come, come to Me, come to My arms of Love, come to the Heart of your God and Lord, because days are coming that you will need the refuge of My Love, the refuge of My Holy Heart. I urge you to love in the way of love, do not deviate your steps because that day, when you are before Me⁹, you will regret not having heard My Words of love that warn you incessantly, because the salvation of your soul is at stake.

Learn to recognize the seriousness of the moment you live, and not waste the time that heaven has granted you, to put your life and your heart in order before Me.

There is no time, time is running out, and that day, a day of rigor and justice, you will regret not having listened to My Words and put into practice everything I tell you today. Listen, listen son, there is no time, because the roaring lion is getting closer to end everything holy, with everything that comes from God, and little by little he will leave you without the help of the Lord. Do not wait any longer to not be able to approach My Grace; come, come today, come closer to Me in the sacrament of confession, come and leave in My Heart all your sins with tears and pain for having committed them, and come closer to Me in communion and receive My Body and My Blood with joy and love.

It is not a time to hesitate, to doubt, it is a time to act and obey your Savior, who today speaks to you through the instrument that I have chosen for your love to send you My Words of Love.

Learn the lesson of your ancestors in the pages of the Holy Scriptures, the story of Love of God and His people is written, you are His people, it is your story, learn it, read it and rejoice in it¹⁰ because it is your love story; it is the same Heart of God Who has written it for you, for all His holy people, from generation to generation; learn it in your heart, it is you and I am in each page of love of the Holy Book of your God.

⁹ Lk 12,2-3; Jn 16,8; Rom 2,16; 1 Cor 4,5; Rev 6,16

¹⁰ Neh 8,1-10,1; 1 Pe 1,23-25; 2 Pe 1,16-21

It is the love story that led the Holy People of God to the the way of Salvation is the love story of a whole God who came down from heaven for your love, and in obedience to God the Father died for you, for your Salvation, on a Cross full of ignominy¹¹ and of Love. It is the story of the daring disciples of the Lord who took His Word and His Love to all corners of the holy orb of God, learn the lesson, learn love, that on each page your heart is soaked with the Love of a whole God who came down from heaven for your love¹².

It is not a time to search the Holy Scriptures, it is a time to fill yourself with its love and let the Spirit of God convert your heart with the Grace that reaches your heart in each Word; let, let Grace enter your heart, when in each Sacred text knocks on the door of your heart, let it enter that it carries for you an 'I love you' and a lesson in love; obey its command and rejoice in the good and love of the people of God led by His Love; learn from all that is written there, for you are His people, the people of your God, learn the audacity of the brave, the pain of the repentant, the trust of the abandoned in the arms of God; for in them you will see yourself, because you are His people, the people of God; wait on His promises, and may the hope that fills your heart encourage you and revive¹³ you on your journey. And now the last Book¹⁴ of them all arrives, be filled with amazement, because the Power of God is sublime and encompasses the entire world, everything created¹⁵, everything that exists, God is and under His Power there is nothing, nothing exists that is not subdued and in Him. In the last Book, hope awaits you in His Promise¹⁶, read it with joy, because they are the secrets of heaven placed before your eyes and your heart. Don't be afraid of anything you read, because you are His people and He rules and governs everything with Power, Justice and Mercy. Take hold of His mighty hand and feel light as a feather, He bears the full weight of your existence.

Learn the lesson of those who strive for the Gospel, of the martyrs and prophets. Son, listen today to My voice and feel yourself a people of God, your story is also written in the pages of the Holy Book of God,¹⁷ you are there, it is your story, it is the story of the Holy People of God and you are His people.

In the most beautiful pages of the history of Israel is your love story with your God, today it is repeated, son, there is nothing new under the sun¹⁸.

Have in your hands the Holy Book of God and enjoy everything that God left for you there, for your love, from the creation of the world¹⁹ to the new earth and the new heaven²⁰. Everything is written there, for your love, and in the center the Martyrdom of your God: His death on a Cross, for you, for your Salvation. He came to reconcile the previous pages with the later ones and to unite the entire Holy Book with the Blood poured out on His Cross, He was the long awaited One by the mouth of His holy prophets. When He came they did not recognize him but those who recognize him open their soul to the Only Salvation. His death opened the doors of the Holy Church²¹ and His Word vivifies and encourages it²².

Son, today I put in your hands the Holy Book of God: The Holy Scripture; love it, read it and learn from My Love for a holy people, chosen by God. You, son, are His people;²³ today, now, that is your story, hence your love story with the only God, One and Triune. Feel happy and enjoy each page of love.

¹⁷ The «Holy Book of God»: this beautiful denomination is not found in all the Sacred Scripture, neither the instrument that receives the Messages nor its director would have dared - and very difficult it would have occurred to them - to refer to it using a different name as those names in use. The same is true of the expressions "Holy People of God", "Holy Heart of Jesus", "Holy Spirit of God".

Be patient, I come soon,²⁴ wait for your God and Lord in the patience²⁵ of the righteous ones and zealous for the Gospel, know your history, the history of Salvation, and you will find the strength of a pilgrim people, walkers, who have never stopped walking towards God..

It's time to know who you are, who you belong to, who won you in the Cross at the price of His Blood²⁶ shed for your love in obedience to the Father²⁷.

Let yourself be led by the Holy Spirit of God to the new earth and the new heaven, towards the new Jerusalem²⁸.

I am coming soon. I, Jesus, am with you and do not depart from you²⁹. Amen, amen. »
