

MESSAGE 76 SEPTEMBER.1.2020

«Open, doors, the lintels, that the King of Glory¹ is going to pass; open, doors, the locks that the Awaited One is coming, the one who should come², in His hand the scepter to rule³ the earth, in His head the crown⁴, all Honor and Glory to the King, to the King of the world, to the King of the universe⁵.

A sentence looms over the world, a trial in which the perverter of souls is condemned⁶ for an eternity.

Warn each other, children, of the time that arrives, of the time that is coming that it is already here; let each other know. Tell yourselves the truth at all times, give up wordly habits and fears of communicating to others, because there is no time, time is running out.

One day I told you that I would come to rule the earth⁷, because My Kingdom is not of this world⁸, this world will have to go through the greatest purification that has ever⁹ existed, it must be purified from all evil, from all perfidy of the enemy, Satan, before the King rules with jusice His Kingdom of Love, Kingdom of Christ¹⁰, the Lord, reign of the Lord Jesus¹¹, the King of Glory.

Courage, children, because what your heart and soul awaits is the Glory of the Lord, of the Lord Jesus, the King of Glory.

Courage, children, because what your heart and soul awaits is the Glory of the Lord, of the Lord Jesus, the King of Glory. Prepare to receive Him before in your hearts, to be before Him¹², oh, children, what a glorious day for this world of sin! The Light from above will flood, fill your heart and soul, the Light of God will illuminate your life from your birth and you will have a knowledge of your life before being created in the womb of your mother, you will be depositories of the legacy that your Father God left in your life, before your creation in the womb, and you will see what you have converted that legacy of love¹³ into, for which you were chosen since before creation¹⁴, because you have always existed in the Heart of My Father God.

You know nothing of the breadth and depth of your life, of the human life, how happy and carefree you kill in the womb. Justice will fall implacably among those who kill life, destroy the plan of God in you and look away laughing and feasting, unconcerned with your responsibility, with your hands stained with innocent blood, you take your glasses and toast for the sin committed. Oh! Your faces will blush and pale with amazement and horror when you see before Me the blood that you have shed in your lives directly or indirectly, in your seats of power and lust, by the power and applause of those who one day will blush before Me and will pale with pain for the sin committed by your hands or your decisions in the seats of power. No to the sin of abortion, from wherever you are, children, shout it out and fight for it: it is the evil of this world, which will bring the greatest pain of purification, it will attract wars and plagues to you, because the world will be corrupted by this sin like never before. Life, children, protect the life received from your Father God¹⁵.

A world adegnated to sin because of the stain of original sin, but where sin abounded, Grace¹⁶ more than abounded, children, you are not alone to fight against sin: Grace assists you at all times¹⁷. Courage children, if your greatest sin was great, it is your Redeemer¹⁸, who endured the most cruel suffering on the Cross, to free you from evil and sin, which surrounds you and lies in your hearts always inclining you to evil and lust. Courage, children, and always fight by My side against your sin and the sin of the world.

Everything is about to happen, everything will happen, the clouds will rush across the sky; time is coming, it is coming, one time is passing and another is coming fast. Get ready with your sandals and your stick¹⁹, because you will have to march, walk through the thicket and the desert towards green meadows and quiet fountains; you must pass through horror and evil and make your way to the land of promise. Stop regretting the failure of this world, because it is already lost; be busy preparing your path, the path that will lead you to My Holy Heart and be happy, children, in this preparation, may this preparation, now and always, become your life, your daily work in the midst of your ordinary life.

Do not give importance to a world that is doomed to perdition, children, no longer look at the things of this world, because it is condemned by its works²⁰; rather look at your path, the path that opens before you, a path of peace and glory, of work and effort, but always accompanied by My Grace, and an orchard will blossom in the moor²¹ and in your heart. Your eyes will see the joy of a world turned into a Kingdom of Peace²² and Glory²³, but until then prepare to fight, to work in the army of your Lord and God. Courage, children, that although the fight will be bloody²⁴, the glory promised by your Savior²⁵ will be greater.

Open, doors, the lintels that the King of Glory is going to pass, the King of your souls and of your lives. Make your way through the sins of this world, children, and walk, walk along the path that leads you to Me. How? You will tell me, children; review everything that I have told you in these times, it is written for you in each Message that I have sent you through My beloved child of the soul, Isabel. I have told you, month after month, to illuminate what is written for you in Sacred Scripture.

These are the end times and heaven covers you with its mantle of Glory, heaven pours out its Grace, the Grace of God in your hearts and your souls. Children, do not be ungrateful with the help of Heaven, receive it as a gift, because it comes from the Father God, who loves you and never stops looking at you and accompanies you on the path of your life. He takes care of you, of the plan that, from all eternity, he poured out and wanted for you. Indulge yourselves in it and fight, children, so that this plan that hangs over you, and is guarded in your hearts by My Grace, bear fruit in its season, a sweet fruit that pleases God.

Let heaven help you children, let yourself be helped, obey My Words and follow the path that I mark for you, that I point out so that not one is lost²⁶.

Share My Word with your love ones, always accompanying My Word with your testimony of life and love in My following. United with Me in the work of winning souls for My Father God; they are His, and for them I have died on the Cross, but the wicked enemy snatches them from My Father out of envy and wickedness.

²⁶ Mt 18, 14; Jn 10, 27-29

Work in My harvest, it is late and night is falling. Falls off inexorably over the world and over you, children. Courage, encourage one another and follow my path²⁷, the path of love and of My Commandments²⁸, because in each commandment is all the Love of your Father God for your good and your salvation.

The night of time is falling, it is hanging over you, children, enlighten with the Grace that I pour out on you in this Message to the world, to all who want to listen to Me. May the Light of God illuminate your path and peace flood your heart. The peace that I give you and shed on you, in this Message of salvation for a disbelieving world that has abandoned its God and Lord, and is following the paths of perdition.

A voice is heard in Ramah, it is the cry of Raquel. How many cries go up to heaven for the slaughter of innocent beings, who will not know the light of life, because they are deprived of it in the womb of their mothers! Do not be executioners of your children, of the children who come to this world with a design of love in their lives.

Prepare yourselves, children, because the night of time is falling, it is already falling on this world of sin.

Tighten your sandals, the road is long.

I am with you and I do not depart from you, I love you and carry you in My Holy Heart. I, Jesus, am here, I am with you and I do not stop looking at you, accompanying you in this valley of tears that you have turned this world into, which you received for the joy of the children of God, but which has become a sewer of sin and evil.

Israel, I am here, I am your Savior and I died for you²⁹.

Doors, open the lintels, the King of Glory³⁰ is going to pass, He
