

MESSAGE 94 MARCH.1.2022

«Listen to My voice, My people, people of the Lord, that I speak to you and I want to reach your heart¹, heart of stone², I speak to you in the silence of your heart³ on this night of silence so that you listen to My voice, the voice of your Lord.

I am here for you, for you, put yourself in prayer and listen to Me, listen to My voice⁴ in your silence, that today I speak to you and I want you to listen to what I want to tell you in the silence of your life, in a few minutes that you dedicate to listening to your Lord. Put yourself in prayer, for everything around you, be silent⁵ and listen to Me: it is not too late to start but it is late to take the wrong path and have time to straighten it out again, because the prevailing situation is not conducive to reflection and the help of my ministers. Where will you find advice? Where will you see your error if everywhere you find confusion and error?

It is not too late to start but be careful, do not take the wrong path because it will be difficult for you to find the truth, the correct direction in your walk, because the world is lost, corrupted and everything you see around you is confusion and error. It is easier to find the path and see My signs than to get out of the error of a wrong path⁶, because the error will confuse your heart and it will be more difficult for you to retrace what you have walked in the light of reflection and the correct advice of one who is in the truth.

You do not fall to error⁷ if you follow My Words, those that I address to you today and want them to come to you on this night of love⁸, of silence in your heart.

It is late and the night of the times⁹ hangs over this world of sin and corruption, because the owner of this world, satan, has taken it by force of sin and evil; he has it under his dominion¹⁰. It is not too late to start, but in this world of error and confusion it will be difficult for you to walk in the truth if you have fallen into the net of error¹¹.

It is not easy to introspect oneself in humility and simplicity to question the path you are on¹² and only then can you retrace the wrong path. To retrace the error as to seek the truth is for courageous valiants in the way of Christ¹³ and possible only in humility¹⁴.

Man builds a fortress with his ideas, opinions and chosen path and defends it to the death for the sole fact of being his choice, but he does not live detached from his ideas and opinions, from his chosen path with a heart open to the light and the truth at all times, and for this reason he can live his whole life in error defending his fortress and fighting against anyone who dares to warn him of his error.

Children, children, listen to My voice, the voice of your Lord and listen to Me that it is easier to start than to leave the errors.

One never speaks of the error made but of the path found, but what a beautiful testimony to the world is the light shed by those who talk about their error, that left their lives by having found the light that illuminated it and made them change. Every time a child of God leaves the wrong path¹⁵, considered as true, it is a light that is shed on the world so that many leave their error and find the truth.

It is easier to get out of sin than to get out of error. It is easier to repent of sin than to recognize the error in life and get out of it¹⁶. That is why children, tonight I ask you for humility, reflection and silence in your lives because how many there are who are walking in error and with no possibility of getting out of it because they are in the fortress they built, defending each one of their steps as if it were the way of the Lord!

How much it costs men to go back on his ideas and his sayings, what they say and preach without stopping, feeling masters of their walk and not children, always doubt yourselves when you do not accept the light that I send you and challenges you, questions and complicates life, because it demands a change in your lives. Do not defend what is customary and believed by you always, as you usually say, but humbly accept the light that I send you for so many reasons and circumstances that the Lord takes advantage of in your lives to illuminate your error and wrong path and correct you and make you take the correct road.

It is better for you to change at the last minute of your life than never change and die in error.

It is better for you to suffer the realization of the error in which you live than to never know the joy of the Light and Truth.

Yes children, that tonight I urge you to reflect, to leave the fortress of your ideas, those of all your life and of which you feel so proud because you have always lived in them, or in that path found and taken for true and in which you feel so comfortable.

Yes children, that tonight I urge you to reflection and the decision to retrace the error. The path found after reflecting on everything in your life that seriously challenged you but you were not brave enough to take it seriously in your lives, because it requires a change in your life; sometimes a change that is not possible without much suffering.

Do not forget that it is easier to find for the first time, than to leave the path that you are on¹⁷ and you have made yours and in which you feel owner and lord of your life.

It is easier for the lost to be found, than for the mistaken in his fortress to find the truth in his life.

Tonight I make a call to you to review your life and find again the lights left on the path of your life that I sent you but you rejected for demanding a change in your life that started from recognizing your mistake and that of those who follow you, accompany and second in your wrong¹⁸ way.

If you do not stop in your life and reflect on your path, you will leave the truth¹⁹ so many times by your side that I sent you.

Look at what challenges you, questions and demands in your life a serious and sincere reflection; look at it and stay in your Lord so that He gives you the strength of the brave and zealous and you are able to leave your old fortress defended so many times and that you do not want to leave, even if the price is not living in the truth.

How to leave your truth in which you have always lived and in which you feel safe and embark on an adventure and make everyone around you laugh, dislike and anger at you for being brave and planting yourself in your life leaving the error and choosing the light²⁰ that shows you the true path? Today you can do it, it is your moment or you will not have it again, because it will be very difficult and harder to recognize the error because confusion will fill minds and hearts²¹.

²¹ Ezek 7,5-7; Amos 3,9; 1 Cor 14, 33

Listen to Me children and stop in your lives that is worth a moment of pain²² and a life of joy and even a single minute, a single moment of living in the Truth and having found it, even if the price is pain and suffering because nobody wants deserters from the path, which will be what they call you, but you be pioneers of the Truth, masters of your choice in the Light of the Lord, brave walkers who for a few moments of pain leave error and find the Light of Truth²³ to live in it, already in this life and throughout an eternity.

Be light with your courage to recognize the error²⁴, to make it easier for others to discover it in their lives.

I speak to you, to those of you who are always here or think like this and in your life a light appeared that uninstalled being here or thinking like that. I encourage you tonight to return to that reflection, to bring that light back to your life; remember that it will be easier for those who live in sin to find the light of God in their lives²⁵ than for those who live sure of their ideas and opinions on a wrong path, to recognize the true light.

You have built a fortress in the way of following God and you are defending your own way, but not the way of God.

You live in your truths, but not in the truth of the One God, you have accommodated yourself to defend what is yours, but you no longer recognize that the path that God points out to you is no longer the one that you are so sure of yourselves.

I accompany you on your walk and I meet²⁶ with you on this night to speak to you and help My beloved children to find the Only Light, the Only Truth, the True Path²⁷.

It is easier for a poor and misguided person to discover the Son of God than for a wise and knowledgeable person who claims to know and follow him.

God always gives you opportunities to recognize the errors in your life, but only a humble heart will recognize God in his life, who speaks to him and guides him. »
