

This is the vision I had today, in recollection when I made the sign of the cross; after having been in a moment of prayer before the crucifix.

The first thing that I have seen have been snowing, snowflakes and a lot of snow on the ground. I have seen a very large group of people walking through that snow, it was a mountain, a field, I do not know but it was not an inhabitable place. A man carried a cross on high, a priest was there, he was dressed, he looked like he was wearing a chasuble and it was beautiful, he carried the Holy of Holies in his chest, his hands I think you could not see he had them guarding the Holy Body of the Lord inside that sacred ornament. They were all walking around the priest. There was a lot of snow on the ground.

Then I saw a person that was going to be martyred by cutting his head. His head was resting on something, a stone bench or something, he was wearing a chain with a crucifix and had the crucifix in his hands. And I have known that these two images corresponded to what the world was living in that same moment in time, they were tormenting the christians. But in that place of martyrdom it did not snow or it was taking place indoor.

Later I saw people fleeing in terror, it seemed that it was in a town and people in the street fleeing in terror because they were going to attack them. I have also seen, on the mountain, a tree that had been cut and next of what was left of the tree planted on the ground there was a child crying, and a woman who came after took that child in her arms and took him away and then, in that same place, I saw a man who had many dogs tied.

After this I saw a little house that was isolated in the countryside and I have seen that there was smoke in the chimney, I saw that there was a family and they were praying. They had a warm light like from candles lit. I have known that their life has been a life of prayer and I have known that faith was lived as never before, because it was the only help, the only life: the Lord and to wait for the Lord. Later, in the same house, I saw as there was no longer that heat, neither that chimney had smoke and inside that house there was no longer the warmth color, but it was now cold, it was cold, the family was cold, and they were close to each other as trying to keep each other warm, holding each other and I knew they had nothing to eat. Then I saw how the old man of that previous vision¹ came through the door of that house and in that house there was food again but not because the old man brought it with him, but because when the old man arrived it was there.

I have seen the blood moon in the sky.

I have seen a Church that was in a town, a field, where many people entered Mass. And when they were already at Holy Mass, the bad guys came in and killed them all, the last one killed was the priest. Then everything was silent; all being dead in this Church. And then there has been a moment that it was as if the ceiling of the Church disappeared, the ceiling disappeared, it remained open, and a blinding white light entered and in that white light the souls were seen.

A few words have come to me: "It is the time that is going to come."

I have seen many clouds in the sky that passed very fast, very fast, and then a surface, a deserted plain but it was not the desert, it was an arid and deserted plain, and it was of a yellow color of being dry by the sun.

In another image, I have seen a green fir, only the fir. Above the fir there was a star like the ones that are put on Christmas, there was only the star, nothing more. Later they appeared in that fir tree as in a superimposed image Christmas balls, decorations, but they fell and disappeared. That image where the decorations were disappeared and only the fir with the star above remained, only, there was nothing else left. Then images like those of Christmas parties appeared and after those images of those parties there was a silence, total silence. And then the images were totally contrary to those of the party, they were of people screaming for suffering and pain, for persecution. And again those words have returned: "It is the time that is going to come." The time of suffering and persecution. I have heard a few words: "Convert, convert and believe in the Gospel"

Then, after all this, the Heart of Jesus appeared on the world, surrounded by thorns and a few drops of blood fell from Him; and I have heard a few words: "For the martyrdom of pain for the sins committed by My children."

And after a moment it has appeared as a white glow next to the Sacred Heart of the Lord, and I have known that it was the presence of the Immaculate Heart of Mary.
