

MESSAGE 116      JANUARY.1.2024

« All stay and be calm. In the Name of the Lord, I command you to obey My Holy Laws.

Here I am, My people, here I am for you and today I speak to you through My dear girl Isabel. I speak to you and command you to obey Me because you have left My side, you have disobeyed Me and you have gone far away from Me.

Today I tell you: Return, little sheep of My fold, return to Me, to your God and Lord, and walk in My ways, do not distance yourself from Me. Look, I am at your door and I call you, and I want you to come with Me, together we will walk and I will whisper words of love and salvation to your heart. But you do not want to know anything about Me, you do not want My Salvation, you rejected My Cross and My Salvation and you went with other gods who will be your perdition.

Today I tell you: Return, return to Me, to your God and Lord. On the way I lost you; Today you return to Me, dear little sheep of My fold, you return to Me in this Message of love and salvation. Your heart has opened to My Words, Words of love and salvation.

It is time to return, not to march far away from your God and Lord.

Time is running out and the fountain of Mercy will be sealed for a time, the time of the Great Tribulation. It will be open again, and it will open, but you will never know when it will happen.

The time of God in you has been despised and rejected by your stubborn hearts and closed to the Grace of God, that is why the Lord will not listen to your laments and supplications during the time of purification.

Your pain will open your hearts and thus it will be easier to return to the path, it is your time of trial, your time of desolation. Your God has already gone through it before you to free you from death and sin, on the Cross, in a death full of pain and abandonment so that now you can pass through the doors of Heaven; but you reject time and again the Cross of your God and Lord. Why, children? Why are you so stubborn?

Time and time again I told you that I would return, but you do not believe Me, and you continue to live with your back turned to your God and Lord and that will cost you a path of purification to return to Him.

Time is running out, I told you many times, but you do not take it rigorously, you continue feasting and doing your things, that is why I tell you: The fountain of Mercy will not be opened because you have closed it with your abandonment and rejection of your God and Lord.

That justified abandonment that your God now announces to you. Only in pain and suffering does the heart open to God, that is how you, children, are stubborn and rebellious with your God and Lord.

That is why I tell you: I will not open the doors of Mercy until your tears open to Me, your pain does not push you to cry day and night and you are moved by sincere repentance for all your sins. That will be your key to reopen the doors to the Mercy of God. It will remain closed for days and years, and no one will be able to open it, neither your lamentations day and night, nor your tears will open it until sincere repentance fills this world with painful hearts open to My Grace.

It is the announcement of a time; I tell you today and do not regret it later. The fountain of Mercy will be closed and no one will open it. The world will remain dark and sad, blind and mute. Sin will grip your soul and you will live without God nor without Light. Those of you who now believe are My ministers will be confused and you will not know where to go, darkness will fill this world with sin and evil, and your children will succumb to the most aberrant and detestable actions, that world will come because of your perfidy and evil ways.

You have distanced yourself from Me and you have succumbed to the traps of the enemy due to your hedonism and perfidy, you have not listened to My cries of Love that call you, you have preferred to listen to the enemy of your soul, that is why I tell you: The Lord will not listen to you until a certain time and the Mercy of God will wait without being poured out into this world because you did not want My Words, you rejected My Cross and you abandoned Me in the hands of My enemies. You did not care about My pain and suffering, that I was at your door day and night waiting for you to open to Me, soul of Mine that for you I died on the Cross. You did not care about My Holy Body and you gave it to the hyenas, and you did not treat it with adoration and care, respect and holy fear of God, you treated it in any manner.

The sky will darken and the moon will not shine, the night will be closed and nothing will be seen because you extinguished the light of the tabernacle and of My Word with your abandonment and evil. You relegated my Holy Laws to oblivion and your rejection, and you decided to do the opposite of what was commanded by your God and Lord. You laugh at your God and do you believe that nothing is going to happen? Do you believe that you can reject your salvation and nothing is going to happen? You live alienated from Truth, Good and Love, and do you believe that nothing is going to happen?

The door of Love will close after being despised and wounded for so long.

The door of Love will be closed and will not open by your wailing, so that your heart may open more and more to My Grace.

You are not constant or loving in the path of God, the enemy immediately beats you and takes you out because your roots are not deep and true, and that will cost you to see yourself alone and helpless in the hands of the enemy Satan.

Life is true, the punishment is fair. You live in a dream that will become a nightmare, you do not live in the truth of life but in the lie of a farce, of a deception devised by your minds inclined to sin and your destruction.

It is time for truth in your lives, start walking on a lonely path where you have renounced walking with God; You will go alone and so I will leave you, it is the path of the Great Tribulation, the path of pain and abandonment of your God, it is the just punishment that will open your hearts, it is the just threat to open hearts closed like stones and blackened by the sin. Only pain will make the hearts of My children bleed because now they have no blood, they are dry and chilled by the cold of sin and evil.

Heaven closes its doors in the time of desolation for this world.

Heaven looks expectantly at My children and cries for their sin.

Heaven awaits the Redemption of this world doomed to the precipice of perdition.

Thus I leave you, dear children, and I keep you in a favorable time where the source of Love and Mercy will be reopened.»
