

MESSAGE 122 JULY.1.2024

«I wait for you in every event of your life; I wait for you and I will always wait for you. I carry you engraved in the palm of My hand¹ and My Heart bleeds with love for you. This is how your life is for Me, son of My Soul, and this is how it has always been.

The rigor of the present time knocks at your door and that of your brothers; is the time, the time of harvesting² and what fruits will I find?³

It is the time in which man renders accounts to his God, accounts of a past time in which he acted and lived before God⁴, even though he was alienated from this reality.

It is the time of a new phase, unknown to man because until now he has been governed by the same patterns of life and behavior, but from now on it will no longer be like that; the rigor of a new and turbulent time knocks at the door of every man. There are some who know it and prepare⁵ themselves, others live far from this reality but will live it anyway.

Do not think that it will be a new time in your understanding and opinion, it will be a new time according to God and it is written in the Holy Book of God⁶, so you do not know what it will be like, nor do you understand it even if you have read it in the Holy Scriptures.

Your understanding is poor and has no light, but your deception makes you want to know and understand, and you set your mind for your own opinions but the truth, children, is that it is a time that will take you by surprise⁷ and will overwhelm you in events that you will not know how to face or how to live.

Only he who lives according to the Light of God⁸ glimpses and receives the gentle radiance of Truth and according to him he lives and does not make mistakes because he is on the path of God⁹.

It is true that it is a new time but so ancient in its knowledge since it has been announced in the Holy Scriptures since ancient times¹⁰. You do not expect it, children, you think it will not come but it is here; It is here with all its reality and truth. The time is already with you, but it is madness that you know it, that you live it; They will take you for crazy, but they will soon know that it is not so crazy and many will realize the great truth that those of you, who have read the signs of the times¹¹ that I send you without ceasing, live.

It is torture for your Maker¹² to see His children wander through the times of life without awareness of the unique and absolute reality of the existence of God.

You live according to your criteria and your opinions¹³, forged in the course of your short and fragile life, so often without light and still you think you know everything. It is the furthest thing from sanity and truth.

Children, a time full of news awaits you for lives that only want hedonism and debauchery¹⁴; and in this time you will know scarcity, poverty and suffering, sacrifice and shame. It is a good therapy for your conceited and arrogant minds, only then will you know who you are and where you are going; you will have true knowledge of the path of your life and it will be the light that will illuminate your lives that lie in the darkness of a past time full of lies and foolishness, a time of abundance¹⁵ for the majority of mortals, and of progress, that you have not known how to use for good and harmony among all men. It is a hedonism that borders on the insolence of man, of the human being who has believed himself to be God¹⁶ and enslaves other men with a despotism and cruelty that moves further and further away from the love of the Gospel¹⁷ that I came to bring you; little clay gods showing off a plastic, fictitious authority, because you do not have it, playing at being God but mistaking the character because you play with evil and God is Love¹⁸ and Mercy. You are unfair with yourselves and to others, and you display justice, but you do not know true justice: the Justice of God¹⁹. And this is how you live and, among you, a small remnant²⁰ lives according to God but you ridicule²¹ them and separate them, you take them for crazy and you say that they are blessed in a derogatory tone.

It is a corrupted world and, as you see, it needs light and order, justice and mercy, the just and necessary purification will bring you the Mercy of God²² because only in this way will you be able to know the True God²³ and not the images of God that you have made to your liking²⁴ or by your fears in other cases, but in the same manner none responds to the True God. Now, in this time of tribulation and purification, you will know the True God, One and Triune²⁵, and you will feel increasingly closer to Him and He to you.

It is a time of salvation²⁶ and truth, where lies will be banished from your lives through the suffering and the cross on which you will live. I warn you of a new time that requires preparation to face it with fortitude and resistance in the trials²⁷; those who do not prepare will be surprised in their lives without time or light to react.

It is a time of happiness and joy for the souls that await the Redeemer in their lives²⁸, because Blessed are they²⁹ who will be satisfied with the loving countenance of God and in His arms, they will be sheltered from thunder and storm³⁰, they will live safe and happy in the midst of horror and will be carried by My angels to Eternal Life³¹.

But he who lives in the darkness of his faith, alone and jaded, embittered by the misfortune of a world that has not known God and refuses to open the doors of his heart to the Redeemer³², his reward will be loneliness and darkness and he will find himself alone, to face events that he will not be able to handle, anguish and despair will be his path and eternal damnation will haunt his life until the end; only the Mercy of God will wait for him in the last corner of his life³³, before reaching the end of it.

It is a time to pray, pray, pray to supplicate the God of Heaven for the living and the deceased and to follow the guidelines that so many saints³⁴ left in the world with their lives and sufferings, rejoice and joys of being and serving the One God of Heaven and Earth.

The universe will be darkened, the sun will be dark, and the moon will not shine, the stars will fall from their orbits, and confusion and terror will take over this world³⁵, the dead will rise³⁶ and those who invoke Satan will perish eternally³⁷; Only he who entrusts himself to God and follows him with heart and soul will find his salvation³⁸.

You are warned for your own good. Listen to Me, children, and you will save your souls. Hard and difficult moments come to you like there never have been or ever will be³⁹.

It is the time, read the Holy Scriptures, it has been written for you since ancient times.

The time has come, it is here. Prepare, children of men, to live a path announced by the prophets that you read at each Mass. You hear it, but you do not believe it, because if you believe, you would know that it could be your time. Why not? You are not God and you do not know the times, it just as it may be for others, it may be for you.

My little children, wanting to know without knowing anything. When will you grow in virtues? It is the time of humility and truth, prudence and common sense, faith and patience, love and justice⁴⁰. You will need all this to confront your arrogance and conceit of believing that you know and what you are⁴¹. Only in this way will you come to true knowledge about yourself and will you be able to glimpse Who God is and how much He loves you⁴². Only when the son becomes aware of his filiation does he know the father and his love for him.
